A building that breathes

Some buildings impose themselves on the city.
Others complete it.

Serpa Pinto 59 belongs to the second kind:
a serene presence of white concrete and natural wood,
where suspended greenery turns
every balcony into a fragment of garden.

A project considered down to the last detail,
for those who understand that true luxury
lies in light, space and time — the time to live well, in the heart of Porto.

*Just 19 residences.
A way of living.*

The right city, at the right time

Porto has reinvented itself without losing its soul. Between historic granite and contemporary architecture, between the river and the sea, the city stands today as one of the most sought-after residential destinations in Europe.

To live in Porto is to have culture at your doorstep, outstanding cuisine a few steps away and the Atlantic just minutes from home. It means belonging to a city built on a human scale, where everything is close by — and nothing is ordinary.

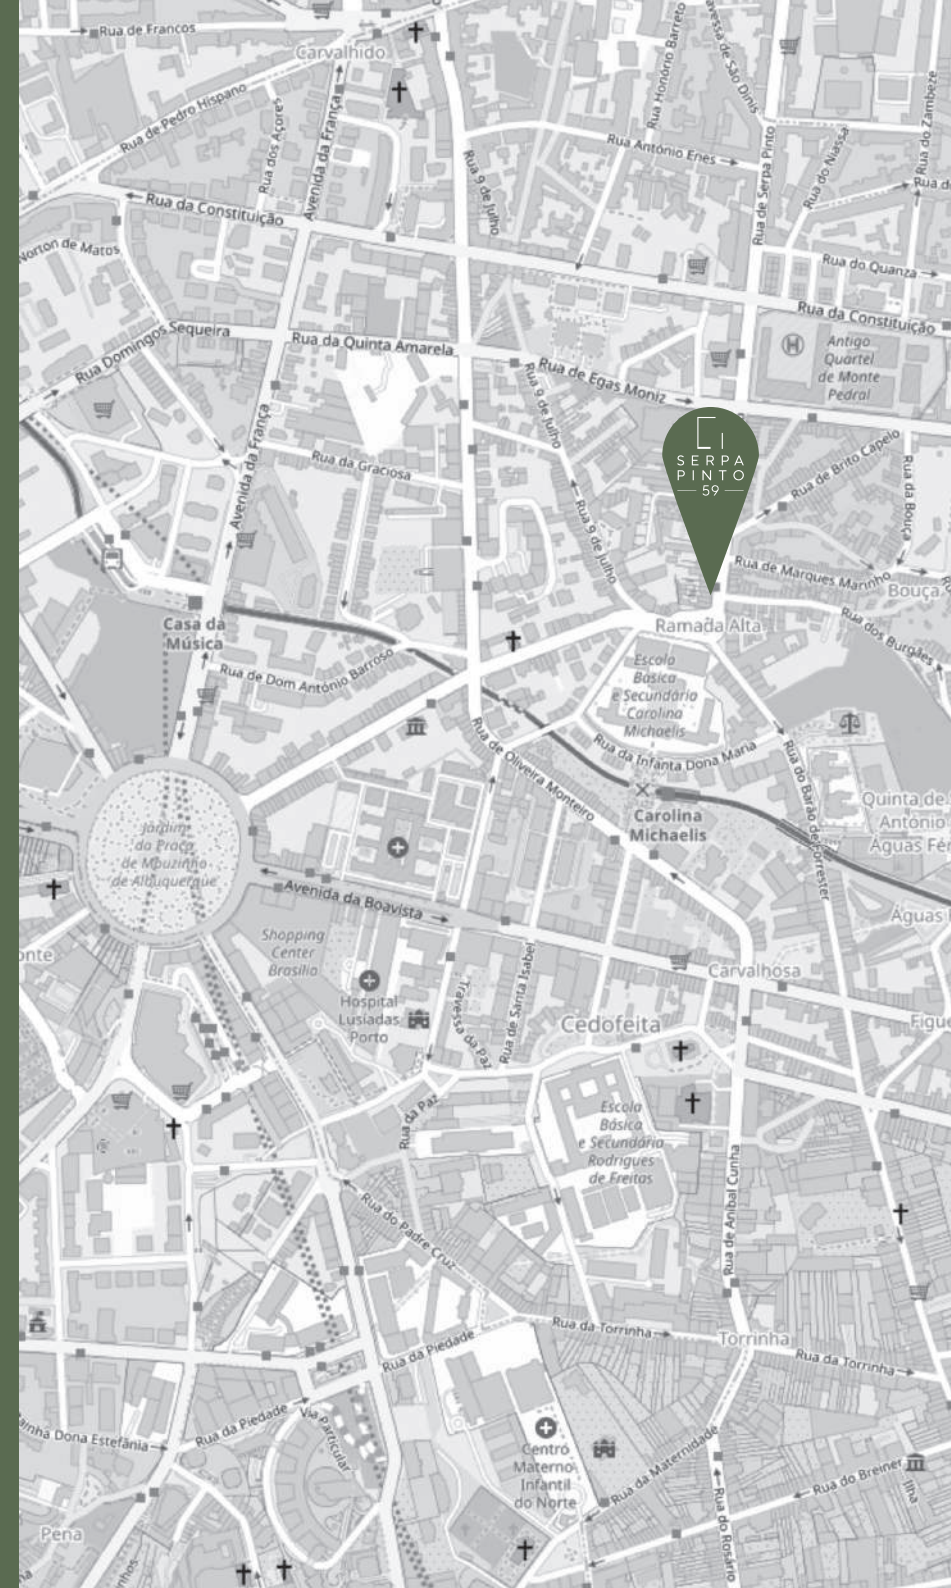

It is in this context that Serpa Pinto 59 comes to life.

Central yet peaceful

Located on Rua de Serpa Pinto, in one of the city's most established and authentic neighbourhoods, the development enjoys a rare proximity:

- Metro within a short walk
- Casa da Música and the Boavista roundabout
- Avenida da Boavista
- Leading universities and schools
- Traditional shops and local services
- Privileged road access (VCI, A28, A20)

A location that lets you enjoy the city with every convenience, while preserving the serenity of a genuinely residential neighbourhood.

Architecture · Light · Green

The project is born from the combination of contemporary architecture, urban comfort and a strong connection to nature.

The white concrete façade, with its clean lines, is punctuated by planters integrated in natural wood, creating a vertical rhythm of green that shifts with the seasons.

The building does not merely occupy the street — it gives it life.

With only 19 residential units, every detail was designed with the scale and care of a signature project.

A vertical garden in the urban landscape

The suspended gardens of Serpa Pinto 59 are more than an aesthetic gesture: they are a statement of principles.

The integrated greenery filters the light, softens the relationship with the street and creates a unique, distinctive identity within Porto's landscape.

Throughout the year, the façade transforms — alive, organic, in constant dialogue with the city.

Interiors designed for living

Each apartment was conceived to maximise natural light, favouring spaces that are generous, functional and carefully designed.

The integration of kitchen and living room creates a fluid, generous social area where life unfolds without barriers. The bedrooms, quiet and secluded, provide the rest the city demands.

Sophistication without ostentation.
Comfort without compromise.

The substance of comfort

The material palette of Serpa Pinto 59 favours the natural and the timeless: warm-toned wood flooring, light surfaces that amplify the light, bespoke joinery.

Every finish was chosen for its quality, durability and ability to age with dignity — because a home is not bought for today, it is bought for life.
